WEBSITE DESIGN FIRM LAUNCHED IN PLYMOUTH - “LEFT SHORE DESIGNS”

Plymouth, MA, August 2010 - - “Left Shore Designs” has officially opened to all, bringing thirteen years of web design experience to Southeastern Massachusetts area businesses. Specializing in website design that is both graphically attractive and operationally functional, the firm is accommodating organizations that either wish to create a web presence or are looking to rebuild the old site they currently have.

Left Shore Designs is not new to the website designing game. Ocean Crest Creative, Left Shore Design’s parent, has been one of the travel industry’s most innovative sales and marketing companies since 1991. In 1997, as part of their efforts to promote the world’s travel industry suppliers, the firm became deeply involved in creating, designing and maintaining a number of, mainly, preparatory websites. According to Bill Mallia, President of Left Shore Designs, “While there has always been great demand for our website creation services, Ocean Crest Creative has always passed up the opportunity to design for others - until now”.

“The art and science of constructing a website tends to attract either graphic designers or ‘tech geeks’, neither of which are overwhelmingly suited for the job as a whole,” according to Mallia. He says his small firm’s efforts are geared to create and maintain websites that both look great and navigate well - strangely a rare combination for many websites on the Internet today.

From accommodating resorts to small businesses - haute cuisine restaurants to high performance manufacturing companies, Left Shore Designs is offering free quotes to those who have realized the importance of a well groomed Internet presence (www.leftshoredesigns.com/freequote.html). As the doors at this “Internet art studio” have just opened, rate quotes are very reasonable, so it’s an outstanding time for any area organization to take advantage of this offer.
